Grand Jury returns six indictments

The Morgan County Grand Jury met Sept. 16 and returned six indictments charging six defendants with 15 felony counts and two misdemeanors. Those indicted were:

Jody L. McClurg, 26, McClurg Road, West Liberty, committing the offense of exploiting Elizabeth Buckner, an adult, to secure money by deception.

Eula Nicole Sowards, 29, Wells Hill Apartments, West Liberty, nine counts of criminal possession of a forged instrument by possessing checks drawn of Family Bank.

James Cody Gillespie, 23, Stingy Fork Road, West Liberty, 3rd degree burglary of an out-building of Larry Fraley.

Timothy J. Nickell, 22, War Creek Road, West Liberty, one count of 1st degree possession of a controlled substance (oxycodone), one count of 2nd degree possession of a controlled substance (seboxone), one count of possession of prescription drugs not in proper container.

Eddy D. Deloach, 36, EKCC, 3rd degree assault of a correctional officer and one count of being a persistent felony offender 2nd degree.

Ronnie L. Patrick, 58, Salyersville, 2nd degree burglary. Patrick is charged with entering the dwelling of Jeffrey Jenkins on July 29, 2008, while armed with a pistol, and assaulting Jenkins with his fists, causing physical injury.

A grand jury indictment is an allegation, not proof, of wrongdoing.

Bluebird houses to be auctioned at annual 'Picnic for the Puppies' Oct. 25

Morgan County High School Creative Arts students are collaborating with Helping Hands for Animals in an effort to raise money for a stray and unwanted animals program in Morgan County.

Mrs. Janell Potter's art students are designing and hand-painting functional bluebird houses to be auctioned at this year's annual "Picnic for the Pups" fund-raiser.

The bird houses were constructed by Prison Industries personnel at Eastern Kentucky Correctional Complex and donated for the event, and Chris Lindon's Agriculture Construction Class at MCHS graciously added some finishing touches on the houses to make them even more functional.

This year's "Picnic for the Pups" will be held Saturday, Oct. 25, at the RECC Fairgrounds at Malone. The event will feature a delicious fall dinner, music by "Flip the Switch," and a silent auction of the birdhouses that have been painted by Mrs. Potter's Creative Arts students.

Tickets for the event are $10 per person and may be purchased ahead by calling 606-743-7261 or 606-743-1240, or leave a message.

All proceeds will go to Helping Hands for Animals, a non-profit 5013C organization, to support a spay/neuter assistance program, adoption, and educational programs.

The birdhouses will be on display prior to the event, and there will be a contest to vote on your favorite birdhouse, with prizes going to the top three favorites.

Everyone is invited to come out and support the students and Helping Hands for Animals by buying a ticket to this year's "Picnic for the Pups." The event will be held rain or shine, and hopefully, outdoors, weather permitting.

AUTUMN IN THE MOUNTAINS—Although transportation costs are high and we are all busy with work, children, friends, church, etc., maybe it's time to relax for just one weekend. Why not plan on a weekend drive through Wolfe, Morgan and Elliott counties and enjoy the astounding patchwork of brown yellow, red and orange foliage. It will be time and money well spent.

EKCC employee's act a reflection of community, people

By John Motley

I read the article in The Courier about Herky Allen and his honor system pumpkin stand. It was a great reflection on our community.

Another case in point: On Saturday of the Sorghum Festival, my niece, Mrs. Jackie Isaacs, who lives in Ohio, came to town to take in the festivities. On her way home from shopping at the festival, she set her purse on top of her car while placing her purchases in the trunk. In the hustle and bustle and excitement of the festival, she forgot about her purse on the car's top. While leaving town, the purse fell off in the road without her knowing.

A while later, Heather Nickell, Nurse Services Administrator at Eastern Kentucky Correctional Complex, was driving across the town bridge and noticed a purse lying in the middle of the roadway with credit cards and cash loose and flying around on the pavement. In the midst of the rush of traffic coming to the festival, Ms. Nickell stopped her vehicle and retrieved the purse and all of its contents scattered in the middle of the road.

After checking the contents of the purse for some identification, she found a phone number in Ohio. She then called the number and talked to Mrs. Isaacs' husband, who in turn called his wife and gave her Ms. Nickell's phone number. They met at a local restaurant and Mrs. Isaacs was given back the purse and all the contents that had been retrieved from the road.

Mrs. Isaacs was elated and could not believe she had gotten everything back, including a fairly large amount of cash.

An excellent example of the goodness and honesty that abounds in our community.

Local teacher among 24 Outstanding Ky. Educators

The Kentucky Department of Education and Ashland Inc. have selected 24 outstanding Kentucky educators, including two from the local area, as recipients of the 2009 Ashland Inc. Teacher Achievement Awards (TAA). These teachers will now compete for the 2009 Kentucky Teacher of the Year Award, which will be announced next month.

The teachers honored from this area are:

From Elliott County, Lonnie Laney, Elliott County High.

From Morgan County, Sabrina Back, Morgan County Middle School.

All 24 teachers will be honored at a ceremony in Frankfort October 22 in the State Capitol Building. Representatives of the Kentucky Department of Education, the Governor's Office and Ashland will be on hand to honor the teachers and to recognize the Kentucky Elementary, Middle and High School Teachers of the Year. From that group of three finalists, the Kentucky Teacher of the Year will be named and will represent the state in the National Teacher of the Year competition.

Ashland will present the 24 TAA recipients with cash awards and framed certificates at the awards ceremony in Frankfort. The three Kentucky Teachers of the Year also will receive cash awards and custom-designed glassware commemorating their accomplishments, and all 24 educators will be honored at a special luncheon that day.

The Kentucky Teacher Awards program combines the best elements of the Ashland Inc. Teacher Achievement Awards and the Kentucky Teacher of the Year programs. This marks the eighth year the Department of Education and Ashland have jointly honored Kentucky educators.

Judging was conducted in August by a blue-ribbon panel of veteran educators, many of whom have more than 30 years of teaching experience. Applications included information on the nominees' teaching philosophies, their teaching experiences and involvement in their respective communities, as well as letters of recommendation from peers, students, parents, administrators and others.

Ashland has recognized outstanding Kentucky teachers with its Teacher Achievement Awards since 1988. More than $550,000 has been awarded to nearly 350 teachers of grades K to 12.

Bailout renews subsidies for natl. forest counties

The emergency legislation to ease the credit crisis includes "several billion dollars in education and road funding for some of the nation's most remote communities, through programs aimed at helping areas with large swaths of untaxed federal land," reports Bettina Boxall of the Los Angeles Times. The biggest item was a four-year extension of the eight-year-old program to compensate counties with national-forest land for decreases in logging.

"Rural counties, most of them in the West, have collected about $500 million a year under the program," Boxall writes. "Oregon, California and Washington have been the biggest beneficiaries. The initial round of funding expired two years ago, and since then attempts to extend the program have been buffeted by politics. At one point the Bush administration proposed selling national forest parcels to raise money for the payments. Last year a one-year extension was included in an Iraq war funding bill. This year advocates attached funding proposals to various bills, only to see the money dropped at the last minute. The financial uncertainty prompted widespread cutbacks in school staffing and programs."

The bailout bill also contained a four-year extension for the payment-in-lieu-of-taxes program, in which the federal government compensates local governments for taking land off the tax rolls, and a one-year extension, to 2010, of the $9 million annual appropriation to the Abandoned Mine Reclamation Fund.

Forest supervisor orders emergency campfire ban

On Monday, Oct. 6, Forest Supervisor Jerome Perez issued an emergency order that bans campfires outside of developed recreation areas. The order prohibits "building, maintaining, attending or using fire, charcoal or campfire outside of a developed recreational site" on the Daniel Boone National Forest. In addition, the order bans all fireworks forest-wide. This order will remain in effect until further notice or up to 120 days.

"The emergency order is necessary to ensure public safety," Perez said. "This is a preventive measure to further reduce risks of escaped campfires, which often result in uncontrolled wildland fires during this time of year."

"Firefighters have been fighting a fire all weekend in the Red River Gorge that is a result of an abandoned campfire that escaped. Unfortunately, this campfire turned into a 567-acre wildfire, requiring hundreds of hours of work by more than 50 firefighters and other Forest Service personnel."

Without significant precipitation, an active fire season is expected this fall throughout Kentucky. According to the National Weather Service in Jackson, Ky., several drought conditions continue for parts of Eastern Kentucky. A recent drought information statement by the NWS has documented September 2008 as the driest September on record for London, Ky., and the second driest for Jackson.

Some rain is predicted in the forecast later this week, which may bring some temporary relief from the drought. However, without continuing rainfall, the forest ground fuels typically dry within a couple of days.

"I encourage all campers and all other visitors to the forest to use extreme caution with fire and to help our firefighters by reporting any activities that could result in an uncontrolled fire," Perez said.

Any individual or group responsible for causing a wildfire can be held liable for the costs of suppression. Violations of the forest supervisor's order may be punishable by a fine up to $5,000 for an individual and up to $10,000 for a group or organization, including the potential for imprisonment up to six months.

Currently, nearly 50 Kentucky counties have issued county-wide fire bans under county judge executive orders. While several of these counties include National Forest System (NFS) lands of the Daniel Boone National Forest, the forest supervisor is applicable only to NFS lands.

THESE PRAYERS WE OFFER

Dear God, where there is darkness, we pray there will be light. Where ever there is injustice, may justice be in sight, where there is great oppression, may freedom soon be near. We pray for understanding and, too, the end of fear. Where is utter hopelessness, may hope be born anew. May we show more compassion as you would have us do, where there is strife and hatred, may there be peace and love. These prayers we humbly offer to you, Dear God above.

I just passed through Heaven's gates

By Carla L. Holbrook

Finally all the pains and sorrows are gone. That I've suffered for what felt like was so long.

And I just passed through Heaven's gates, just through Heaven's gates I see loved ones who are now angels, I see the beautiful tree of life, near the gleaming crystal river of life.

All of this after I passed through Heaven's gates.

Finally, acceptance and love is to be found in this realm. People who take you for who you are and not for something fake.

I just passed through Heaven's gates. Nobody hates, all is peace and love in Heaven.

Mortal, worldly words can not describe how beautiful this place really is.

For no eye has seen nor no ear has heard, all the sweet things that Heaven brings forth.

Some say it's always a spring day. Every day, in every way but I only go by what the Bible says.

It speaks of 12 foundations, robes of white, streets of gold, saints of old, walls of jasper. Even the Lord will wipe away all my tears. To where I can never cry again. For I'll have no reason to in this beautiful and peaceful place which is now my home.

All these wonderful things I know is upon me, and I just passed through Heaven's gates. I can't believe there's such a great change in me. I no longer feel weak but strong, no longer feeble just feeling so free.

Finally, the pain and sorrow is gone. My life in Heaven has just only begun.

Mountain Telephone
Your Rural Cooperative

October– National Coop Month

Cooperatives are often the most visible businesses in rural Kentucky communities. Their presence may not be as obvious in larger metropolitan areas, but in rural communities they touch the lives of many families and individuals. At Mountain Telephone, we employ 71 men & women scattered throughout our service area which includes: Elliott, Menifee, Morgan, Wolfe and a portion of Bath Counties. It's hard to find someone who does not have a connection, such as a relative or friend, who works for a cooperative.

Mountain Telephone serves nearly 14,000 members and returns an estimated $1,000,000 in Capital Credits each year. Our members are the owners. Keeping this in mind, we know it is our responsibility to provide the best in phone service, the best internet service, the best technology has to offer and just simply the best all around communications service that we can give our people.

Cooperatives play major roles in area schools, sports and community activities. Mountain Telephone is active in our public schools by participating in Reality Stores, Career Days, Community Reading Days, and many more activities. Plus, a number of employees are active as Youth Group leaders, sports & academic coaches and community leaders. Each year, Mountain Telephone participates in and/or supports local Relay for Life events. So you see, we don't just speak of communities, we're right there with you, working beside you.

These are a few of the many ways a cooperative enhances, not only the territory it serves, but the people as a whole. Undoubtedly, Mountain Telephone truly is ...

POEM
In the morning when the Lord calls me I want to be ready go to live in that beautiful city up there that's white as snow, where the silver light is shining, it will never grow dim. You talk about a time in heaven when we leave this world of sin.

Prayer of an Unknown Confederate Soldier
I asked for strength that I might achieve;
I was made weak that I might learn humbly to obey.
I asked for health that I might do greater things;
I was given infirmity that I might do better things.
I asked for riches that I might be happy;
I was given poverty that I might be wise.

I asked for power that I might have the praise of men;
I was given weakness that I might feel the need of God.
I asked for all things that I might enjoy life;
I was given life that I might enjoy all things.
I got nothing that I asked for but everything that I had hoped for.
Almost despite myself my unspoken prayers were answered,
I am, among all men, most richly blessed.

Little Learners at EVES

Little Learners at East Valley Elementary enjoyed the story "Who's in the Shed" during the month of September. The children worked hard creating two animal characters from the story. Pictured from left with animal characters are Carlee O'Neal, Shelby Brown, Grant Keeton, Mallory Brashear, Jontae Hensley, Whitney Cantrell, Joseph Gilliam, and Mahala Martin. Each piece was a work of art. Song and dance is always a fun part of our session. We hope to see everyone back next month. If you have any questions about the Little Learners program, please contact us at 522-8157.

Four generations celebrate Grandparents Day at West Liberty Nursing & Rehab.

Families attended a Grandparents Day dinner Sunday, Sept. 7, at West Liberty Nursing and Rehabilitation Center. Grandparents Day began with Mariam McQuade, a housewife from Fayette County, West Virginia with the first official day in 1973. This day has a threefold purpose: to honor grandparents, to give grandparents an opportunity to show love for their children's children, and to help children become aware of the strength, information, and guidance older people have to offer. Rosie Ison, a resident of the facility, was joined by her daughter, Lorene Trimble, grandson, Robert, and his wife, Peggy Trimble, and great granddaughters, Sidney and Isabella.

COMMUNITY BULLETIN BOARD

Ky. Chautauqua presents Daniel Boone: Pathfinder

Scott New as Daniel Boone: Pathfinder

Kentucky Chautauqua presents Scott New as Daniel Boone: Pathfinder. This presentation will take place at Morgan County Public Library on Thursday, Oct. 16, at 7 p.m. (Room 201-Library). Refreshments served from 6 to 7 p.m.

Daniel Boone was born in 1734 in Berks County, Pennsylvania, a son of Quaker immigrants Squire and Sarah Boone. As a young boy he was more interested in exploring the woods instead of helping his father in the fields growing crops. At age 12 or 13, young Daniel got his first gun. He used it to provide game for the family table.

The Boone family moved to Yadkin Valley, in North Carolina, in the early 1750s. In 1756 Daniel was united in marriage to Rebecca Bryan. Daniel spent most of his time farming, hunting, and raising their nine children.

His first venture into Kentucky came in 1767, though he didn't know he was there. In 1769, he crossed Cumberland Gap on a two-year hunting expedition during which he explored Kentucky all the way to the Ohio River. He eventually led six families, including his own, to settle in Kentucky.

Mark your calendars and come, learn more about the adventures of America's best-known frontiersman.

THINK ON THESE THINGS

If you ever are plagued with doubt and question whether God's about, try thinking on some simple things. You'd be surprised the peace it brings. A sleeping child, a summer's day, a puppy awkward in it's play. The clean washed air that follows rain. A diamond-frosted window pane, an apple tree all pink and white. The stillness of a star lit night, a fire crackling on the hearth. The smell of freshly spaded earth. A trail you knew once long ago. A picket fence high-capped with snow, a song your mother used to sing--and why you can pick most anything and you will find your answer there. It's still God's world. He's everywhere.

JACK FROST

Jack frost came a sneekin;
oone chilly, autumn night.
Woludn't you know?
He touched everything in sight!

Oh, he paints a pretty picture.
as we see by the rising sun.
The beauty of his work shows,
But not the change he has done

The weeds and the flowers,
the tomatoes and the corn,
All were banging their heads,
By the middle of the morn.

So once again ol' Jack,
Puts an end to the growin'
He came and went quickly,
Without his face shoven'!

By, Joan Kyar-Frayholtz.

Meet Crystal Meth

I destroy homes, I tear families apart.
I take your children and that’s just a start.
I’m more valued than diamonds, more precious than gold.
The sorrow I bring is a sight to behold.
If you need me, remember, I am easily found/
I live all around you, in your school and in town.
I live with the rich; I live with the poor.
I live down the street and maybe next door.
I’m made in a lab, but not one like you think.
I can be made under the kitchen sink,
In you Child’s closet and even out in the woods.
If this scares you to death, then it certainly should.
I have many names, but there’s one you’ll know best.
I’m sure you’ve heard of me; my name is Crystal Meth.
My power is awesome, try me and you’ll see.
But if you do, you may never break free.
Just try me once and I might let you go.
But if you try me twice, then I’ll own your soul.
When I possess you, you’ll steal and you’ll lie.
You’ll do what you have to do just to get high.
The crimes you’ll commit for my narcotic charms
Will be worth the pleasures you feel in your arms.
You’ll lie to your mother; you’ll steal from your dad.
When you see their tears, you must feel sad.
Just forget your morals and how you were raised.
I’ll be your conscience, I’ll teach you my ways.
I take kids from their parents; I take parents from their kids.
I turn people from God; I separate friends.
I’ll take everything from you, your looks and pride.
I’ll be with you always, right by your side.
You’ll give up everything, your family, and your home,
Your money, your true friend—then you’ll be alone.
I’ll take and take ’till you have no more to give.
When I finish with you, you’ll be lucky to live.
If you try me be warned, this is not a game.
If I’m given the chance, I’ll drive you insane.
I’ll ravage your body; I’ll control your mind.
I’ll own you completely; your soul will be mine.
The nightmare I’ll give you when you’re lying in bed
And the voices you’ll hear from inside your head.
The sweats, the shakes and the visions you’ll see.
I want you to know these things are gifts from me.
By then, it’s too late, and you’ll know it in your heart
That you are now mine and we shall not part.
You’ll regret that you tried me (they always do).
But you come to me, not I to you.
You knew this would happen, many times you were told.
But you challenged my power, you chose to be bold.
You could have said no, then walked away.
If you could live that day now, what would you say?
I’ll be your master and you my slave.
I’ll even go with you when you go to your grave.
Now that you have met me, what will you do?
Will you try me or not? It’s up to you.
I can show you more than words can tell.
Come take my hand, let me lead you to HELL.

This poem was downloaded from the Internet and submitted to us by Pete Frye. We are told that a 17-year-old girl from Johnson County wrote the poem and it was read at the funeral of a friend who had died of a drug overdose (Crystal Meth).

The Wolfe County News

Preserve me, O God, for in Thee do I put my trust. David was saying, protect me Lord, care for me as you would a helpless child. I am needy and helpless, but Lord, I belong to you, I am your child.
Today with sadness, sorrow, unemployment, sickness abounding everywhere, we need the Lord’s protection. Some folks face trials that are beyond their human endurance. Broken homes bring heartache to many, especially children. In view of these difficulties, there is help. The Lord is ready to meet any and all who call upon Him, believing He will respond.
The Sixteenth Psalm offers encouragement and assurance. David was running at the time he wrote this Psalm. He was running from his son. Such sorrow and humiliation he experienced. But the importance of this Psalm is to show that even in the midst of deep despair, David sought the Lord. Would the Lord fail him? Read on. “The Lord is the portion of my inheritance and of my cup: Thou maintainest my lot. I have a goodly heritage, writes David.
Somehow in the midst of his problems, David looked up and knew what the Lord was doing for him and Who God was. The Lord is never found by looking down for Him. One may be down in the depths of a situation, but once that one looks up and acknowledges the Lord, He is there. His promises are to whosoever will

The closing verse of this Psalm is one to carry with us all day. Earthly jobs fade, plans fall apart, money and positions are lost... but God remains faithful. You may have read a poster that states, when all else fails read the instructions. That may be good advice to follow. Read the Word and the Lord’s instructions. David wrote, Thou wilt show me the path of life; in Thy presence is fullness of joy; at Thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

Prevent Home Fires Week observed October 5 thru 11

In observance of Fire Prevention Week, the following safety tips are being shared with the public by Irene Jenkins, Morgan County Emergency Management Director.

Cooking With Care

- Stay in the kitchen when you are frying, grilling, or broiling food. If you leave the kitchen for even a short period of time, turn off the stove.
- Keep anything that can catch fire--potholders, oven mitts, wooden utensils, paper or plastic bags--away from your stove/top.
- Wear short, close fitting or tightly rolled sleeves when cooking. Loose clothing can dangle onto stove burners and catch fire.
- Always keep an oven mitt handy. If a small fire starts in a pan on the stove, put on the oven mitt and smother the flames by carefully sliding the lid over the pan. Turn off the burner. Don't remove the lid until it is completely cool.

Everyday Electrical Safety

- Keep lamps, light fixtures, and light bulbs away from anything that can burn, such as lamp shades, bedding, curtains, and clothing.
- Replace cracked and damaged electrical cords.
- Use extension cords for temporary wiring only. Consider having additional circuits or receptacles added by a qualified electrician.
- Homes with young children should have tamper-resistant electrical receptacles.
- Call a qualified electrician or landlord if you have recurring problems with blowing fuses or tripping circuit breakers, discolored or warm wall outlets, flickering lights or a burning or rubbery smell coming from an appliance.

Healthy Heating

- Install and maintain carbon monoxide alarms to avoid risk of carbon monoxide poisoning.
- Maintain heating equipment and chimneys by having them cleaned and inspected every year by a qualified professional.

• Keep all things that can burn, such as paper, bedding or furniture, at least 3 feet away from heating equipment.

• Turn portable space heaters off when you go to bed or leave the room.

• An oven should not be used to heat a home.

Strike Out Smoking-materials Fires

- If you smoke, choose fire-safe cigarettes if they are available in your area.
- If you smoke, smoke outside.
- Wherever you smoke, use deep, sturdy ashtrays.
- Never smoke in a home where oxygen is used.
- Keep matches and lighters up high in a locked cabinet, out of the reach of children.

Candle With Caution

- Keep candles at least 12 inches from anything that can burn.
- Use sturdy, safe candleholders.
- Never leave a burning candle unattended. Blow out candles when you leave a room.
- Avoid using candles in bedrooms and sleeping areas.
- Use flashlights for emergency lighting.

Safety 101

- Install smoke alarms in every bedroom, outside each sleeping area and on every level of the home. For the best protection, interconnect all smoke alarms throughout the home. When one sounds, they all sound.
- Test smoke alarms at least once a month using the test button.
- Replace smoke alarms every 10 years.
- Make sure everyone can hear the sound of the smoke alarms.
- Have a home fire escape plan. Know at least two ways out of every room. If possible, and a meeting place outside. Practice your escape plan twice a year.
- When the smoke alarm sounds, get out and stay out.
- If you are building or remodeling your home, consider a residential fire sprinkler system.

Lenox

By Estelle Caskey

Oct. 5—Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to the family of Hershel Gayle Ellis, of Owensboro, Ky., the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kersey and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Keeton. Lawrence Kersey and granddaughter, Patsy, attended his funeral in Owensboro last Thursday.

Louise and I were happy to see and visit with Mr. and Mrs. Larry McKenzie, of Florida, at the Sorghum Festival. They are in West Liberty visiting with friends and relatives.

Shane Patrick and Lanny Williams visited last Monday evening with Estelle and Louise Caskey.

Ms. Patty Hilterbrand visited last Tuesday with Estelle and Louise Caskey.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Banks and Joyce Ferguson visited last Tuesday with Mrs. Ruby Caskey at West Liberty Nursing Home and Rehabilitation Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kersey and Estelle and Louise Caskey visited with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Keeton on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joey Bates and Jessie had business in Morehead last Sunday.

Household Hints

- If you drop an egg on the kitchen floor and make a mess, sprinkle table salt over it and wipe up with a paper towel.
- To keep iron skillet from rusting, rub over the inside and outside with a piece of wax paper.
- Feed a paper towel through an electric can opener to clean residue from the blade.
- The copper bottoms of cooking utensils can be cleaned and shined by spraying the bottoms with a solution of three tablespoons of table salt mix with four cups of vinegar; let them sit for five minutes and then wipe clean.
- To remove yellow age spots from stored linens, rub over the spots with a lemon dipped in salt.
- To remove stains from shirt collars, rub over them with table salt prior to washing.

Memory Hill & Roundabout

By Hazel B. Craft

Oct. 6—Sorry I didn't get news in the paper last week--so many happenings I didn't feel up to par. Everything is about as usual at Memory Hill. Several visitors during the past three weeks. At the present time Don and Lois Phillips, of Middletown, Ohio, are spending some time at Memory Hill. They plan to visit several of their friends in this section. My, my, my what great visitors they are! Since I haven't been myself, Lois takes over. She does the cooking, organization of their room, and the rest of the house. Right now they are out exploring Memory Hill. I've never had company like them before. She brought food, sheets and pillow cases, towels, etc, etc. They will be here until Friday.

Dennis Robinson and his son, Jeff, pent some time at Memory Hill. Jeff has been a very sick person. Now he is doing great for which I am thankful. I sure enjoyed their visit. They live at or near Mooresville, Indiana.

Marcia McLaughlin, of Waterford, Michigan, and her aunt, Linnie Ballard, of Jackson, Ky., also paid Memory Hill a visit. Marcia is out of the Bach family. She is very proud of her heritage. She promised to pay another visit to Memory Hill in the near future and spend more time. She is now retired and will do more visiting of her relatives and friends. She was at the Bach-Back reunion. Other visitors include Victor Lykins (thanks Victor for the vegetables), and Lora and Tom Westfall, of Amelia, Ohio, and several others.

Geraldine Benton has been released from the Salyersville Nursing Home. We all are so thankful she is much improved. Rosetti Adams remains about the same.

A small crowd attended the Holbrook Memorial meeting on Middle Fork in Magoffin County. Thanks Bill Stamper and Wanda for your presence. Deborah and I and Bill and Wanda were the only ones from the Martha Ellen Holbrook (Wardie's mother) were present sure hope more can attend next year. I sure appreciate Auttis Cox for his interest in the meeting. Odes Williams, who recently died, was so interested in carrying on this memorial meeting. He promised Wardie he would take charge and her certainly did his lifetime.

Thanks, Auttis, for taking charge now. I know I was disappointed that so few of Granville and Rebecca Holbrook's descendants were not present. So please, Holbrook descendants, mark on your calendar the fourth Sunday in September 2009. Wardie's grandmother, Rebecca, was so special to him. I was thankful I had a chance to know her. One thing in particular I remember about her was in 1937 (a year before Wardie and I were married) I met Wardie at his grandmother's house. I was teaching my first school in Breathitt County at Mud Lick just across the hill from Middle Fork in Magoffin County. Wardie and I hadn't seen each other for sometime. We thought we had a chance to discuss some things. Anyway, Wardie's grandmother came in and said, "Hazel here is your bed and in the other room is Wardie's". Wardie and I often laughed about her putting us to bed before we had a chance to have a conversation.

In closing, I want to thank each and everyone for your phone calls, letters, donations, visits, etc. Hopefully goodbye until two weeks from now.

The main topic I would like to address today is our upcoming all-day gospel singing that will be Sunday, Oct. 12. On Sunday eveing, we will start a revival with Bobby Jenkins, of Fairborn, Ohio. Everyone come out for a great day of good food, singing, preaching and company. What else could anybody want?

Congratulations to Addison and Debbie Manley, who recently celebrated 66 years of matrimony. Whew!

Morgan County schools will be on fall break this Thursday and Friday. I hope students and staff have a great vacation!

Brenda Jenkins is doing well in her recovery. She is waiting for her next doctor visit. Hopefully she will get out of her body cast.

ARE YOU WARMING UP WITH SPACE HEATERS?

- Use heaters on the floor. Never place heaters on furniture, since they may fall, dislodging or breaking parts in the heater, which could result in a fire or shock hazard.
- Unless certified for that purpose, do not use heaters in wet or moist places, such as bathrooms; corrosion or other damage to parts in the heater may lead to a fire or shock hazard.
- Do not hide cords under rugs or carpets. Placing anything on top of the cord could cause the cord to overheat, and can cause a fire.
- Do not use an extension cord unless absolutely necessary. Using a light-duty, household extension cord with high-wattage appliances can start a fire. If you must use an extension cord, it must be marked #14 or #12 AWG; this tells the thickness or gauge of the wire in the cord. (The smaller the number, the greater the thickness of the wire.) For example, a cord sold as an air conditioner extension cord will have these heavy wires. Do not use a cord marked #16 or #18 AWG. Only use extension cords bearing the label of an independent testing laboratory such as a U.L. or E.T.L.
- Be sure the plug fits snugly in the outlet. Since a loose plug can overheat, have a qualified repairman replace the worn-out plug or outlet. Since heaters draw lots of power, the cord and plug may feel warm. If the plug feels hot, unplug the heater and have a qualified repairman check for problems. If the heater and its plug are found to be working properly, have the outlet replaced. Using a heater with a hot cord or plug could start a fire.
- If a heater is used on an outlet protected by a ground fault circuit interrupter (GFCI) and the GFCI trips, do not assume the GFCI is broken. Because GFCIs protect the location where leakage currents can cause a severe shock, stop using the heater and have it checked, even if it seems to be working properly.

2008 MSU Nursing grads excel on natl. RN examinations

MOREHEAD, Ky.—Morehead State University's May 2008 graduates of the Baccalaureate Nursing Program have achieved a 96 percent pass rate on the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses.

Entry into the practice of nursing in the United States is regulated by the licensing authorities within each jurisdiction of the national council. The Kentucky Board of Nursing (KBN) is the licensing authority for this state.

To ensure public protection, the KBN requires a candidate for licensure to pass an examination that measures the competencies needed to perform safely and effectively as a newly-licensed, entry-level registered nurse.

The Kentucky Board of Nursing monitors the performance of each program of nursing to review the performance compared with the outcome achievement measure of an 85 percent pass rate.

MSU's May graduates achieved above the outcome measure for Kentucky and have exhibited superior accomplishments. "Achievement of successful learning outcomes is a positive reflection of the teaching-learning partnership that exists between faculty, staff and students," said Dr. Erla Mowbray, chair of MSU's Department of Nursing.

Several nursing programs, which combine general education with professional nursing theory and clinical education, are available at MSU. Each program has a selective admission procedure and enrollment is limited.

More information on the nursing programs at MSU is available by calling the Department of Nursing at (606) 783-2296 or by visiting www.moreheadstate.edu/nursing.

Hunters should follow safety laws to prevent hunting injuries, death

As hunting seasons approach, Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources officials are urging hunters to follow safe firearms handling rules and to always hunt with safety in mind. While specific details of the incidents are not being released due to pending investigations, preliminary evidence suggests nearly all could have been prevented. Four of the five deaths involved firearms.

"It's a matter of going back to the basics," said Sgt. John Anderson, with Kentucky Fish and Wildlife's Law Enforcement Division. "Of all the incidents I've heard about, they all could have been avoided by following the basic safety rules."

Those rules include the basics of safe gun handling, laws that require hunter orange clothing during firearms deer and elk season, mandatory hunter education requirements and tree stand safety. These rules, when followed at all times, make hunting a safe sport for all participants.

"Almost all hunting incidents involve a lapse in following safety rules," said Bill Balda, hunter education program supervisor for Kentucky Fish and Wildlife.

Basic gun safety rules include the following:

- Always point your firearm in a safe direction.
- Keep the firearm's action open and the firearm unloaded until you are ready to shoot.
- Know your target. Do not shoot at sound or movement.
- Know what is beyond your target. Make sure there is a safe background that you will stop your bullet behind the target.
- Do not hunt or shoot after drinking alcohol or taking drugs. Some prescription medications warn against operating machinery after taking them and should not be used when handling a firearm.

Kentucky law requires hunters to wear unbroken hunter orange clothing visible from all sides on the head, back and chest when hunting during a gun deer or elk season. Hunter orange clothing makes hunters more visible and ensures they are not mistaken for game. It also makes hunters visible in the background beyond someone else's potential target.

The law also requires adults to accompany at all times kids under the age of 16 who hunt deer, elk or turkey with a firearm. The adult must remain in a position to take immediate control of the child's firearm at all times. Adults may not accompany more than two youth hunters at the same time.

Additionally, adults must accompany kids under the age of 12 hunting any species with any equipment, if the child has not yet passed a hunter education course. Accompanying adults must remain beside youth hunters, in a position to take immediate control of the child's bow or firearm at all times, and must meet Kentucky's hunter education law.

"All too often, what we'll see is an adult taking a child hunting, but the adult wants to hunt himself, so he takes up a position within sight but some distance away," said Sgt. Anderson. "When hunting with a child, the child has to be the priority."

Statistics show that hunting is one of the safest sports people can participate in.

"In the last 15 years since hunter education became mandatory, we average 4 1/4 incidents per 100,000 participants each year," said Balda.

This compares to a national average of more than 2,000 incidents per 100,000 participants in both football and basketball, and more than 1,000 each in soccer and baseball.

"The problem with accidents in hunting is a higher proportion of fatalities," said Balda.

Up to one-fourth of hunting incidents involve the use of tree stands, and many of these are fatal. Hunters should always wear a safety harness to minimize risk.

"It takes extra effort to be safe going up into a tree stand," said Balda. "You need to be tied off going up, tied off while you're in it, and tied off when you're coming down."

Balda admits that many hunters do not go to those lengths when using a tree stand. But taking the time to do so could save a hunter's life.

"If everyone tied off going up and down a tree stand, and everyone made sure of what they were shooting at, hunting would be even safer than it is — and it is one of the safest sports you can take up," said Balda.

More than 300 hunter education courses are offered throughout Kentucky each year. The courses teach firearms and tree stand safety, hunting ethics and more. Hunter education is required for all hunters born on or after Jan. 1, 1975, except kids under 12 and hunters who are license exempt. A one-time temporary hunter education exemption permit is available for $5 online at fw.ky.gov, which allows hunting for one year from the date of purchase without a hunter education card. All hunters who take advantage of the exemption permit, even if they are adults, must be accompanied by an adult who meets Kentucky's hunter education law. Hunter education is strongly recommended for all hunters, even for those not legally required to take a course.

Following safety rules at all times can prevent hunting incidents and save lives. For more information on safe hunting and to study Kentucky's official hunting safety course, visit www.hunter-ed.com. Elam (14 digs, 3 assists). Eagle and Nickell served up three aces to win the first set over Fleming, 25-16.

A breakdown in player communication on the court by the Lady Cougars gave Fleming the edge in the second set, allowing them to eke out a 23-20 win.

But Morgan battled back to win the final set, 25-22. With the lead see-sawing, The Lady Cougars upped their effort on the net and with coordinated defense and assists went on to win the set and the game. Eagle had a dig, three kills and a block along with another double block with Adkins, and one assist. Peyton came up with eight digs, served an ace, and had two kills. Adkins posted two kills, and a double block with Eagle. Motley had six digs, two kills, and two blocks. Steele scooped seven digs. Howard 12 digs, Elam two digs, and Brooks came up with six digs.

The Lady Cougars are now 22-6 on the season and are 4-0 in district play.

District tournament action scheduled for Tuesday, October 14

The Lady Cougars lost a couple of games while winning one in recent volleyball action.

The losses were to Russell at home on Sept. 25 and on the road to Mt. Sterling on Sept. 30.

The Lady Cougars started strong against Russell, winning the first set 25-17 behind the great net play of Bri Peyton, Kaytie Motley, and Bri Adkins. Adding to Morgan's momentum were focused serves from Leslie Eagle (4 aces) and an ace apiece from Meghan Howard and Alyssa Elam. Strong defense by Eagle, Peyton, Elam, Howard, and Becca Elam added the needed balance to give Morgan the first set win.

However, the second set saw the momentum swing to the Lady Red Devils as Morgan fell short, 25-18, and then lost the tie-breaker, 25-12.

The Lady Cougars then lost in straight sets, 25-23, 25-12, on the road against Mt. Sterling before getting back on track on the road against Fleming County on Oct. 2.

Cats Take Aim At Spurrier

It was just one year ago that the Kentucky Wildcats traveled to Columbia, South Carolina with a perfect 5-0 record and a #8 national ranking. A win would have made UK the first team in the country to be bowl eligible—not to mention staking the Cats firmly atop the SEC's tough eastern division.

But it simply wasn't to be. Despite rolling up nearly 400 yards of total offense, the Cats fumbled away any chance of victory—including two that were returned for touchdowns by USC defensive end Eric Norwood. In front of a national television audience, the Cats missed on the perfect opportunity for a statement win.

Of course, that "statement" win would come just one week later with a 43-37 triple overtime upset of then #1 ranked LSU. But the sting of the South Carolina loss has stuck in the minds of UK players, coaches and fans. And the Cats would love nothing better than to lay the wood to the Gamecocks this weekend in Lexington.

And while stopping an eight-game skid to South Carolina would be sweet, the real motivation is to beat Steve Spurrier. The 'ole ball coach is a perfect 15-0 against UK in his career. While at Florida, Spurrier was responsible for some of Kentucky's most humiliating losses in the SEC—including a 73-7 shellacking in 1994 and a 65-point blow-out just two years later.

Kentucky desperately wants to beat Spurrier—more than any other coach anywhere. And this

MCMS Cougars edge Bath to win conference title; remain undefeated

Playoffs slated next week at Herdman Field

The Morgan Middle School Cougars played their final regular season game last Thursday against the Bath County Wildcats. Coming into the game, both teams were undefeated, and the district championship was at stake.

The Cougars won the toss and elected to defer to the second half. Eli Haney kicked off and the Cougar defense held the Wildcats. Bath County's punt was a booming kick and went inside the 15 yard line. After one first down, the Cougars were also forced to punt. Cougar punter, Eli Haney, mishandled the snap and the Wildcats took over inside the twenty yard line. The momentum swung in a hurry, and in just three plays Bath County scored. The PAT was no good and Bath led 6-0.

Much of the rest of the first half was a back and forth battle of two very physical football teams. The Cougars second drive ended on the 12 yard line with an interception. The third drive finally saw the Cougar offense come up with a score. Jordan Whitt ran 22 yards on a draw play for the Cougar TD. The Cougars converted the PAT on an Eli Haney kick, and led 8-6.

To open the second half, Bath County successfully converged on an onside kick and threatened to score, again. However, the Cougar defense stiffened and once again Bath County was forced to punt. Kody Thornsberry ran the kick all the way back, but the return was nullified due to a penalty. Three plays later, the Cougars scored. And again, penalty flags took the score off the board. The Cougars were then forced to punt. "We had worked all week on onside kicks. I have told my kids all year that penalties and turnovers were the difference when two good teams play," said Cougar Coach Brian Turner. "I'm surprised that we were able to beat Bath after making so many mistakes."

The Morgan Middle Cougars proved their mettle against Bath County last week to capture the conference championship. The Cougars (blue team), shown here on offense, finished the season undefeated. It was the first loss of the season for the tough and rangy Bath County team.

In the fourth quarter, with the score still 8-6, the Cougars on a 4th down and 4 situation on the 49 yard line, called time out. Said Coach Turner after the game, "I told the kids that I knew our defense was playing well, so, if we didn't make it we could still stop them; but, if we could convert we could keep their offense off the field." The Cougars ran the fullback wedge play and initially it looked as though Whitt would be stopped. However, a great second effort allowed him to break out and pick up the crucial first down. "That play not only kept the drive alive, but it led to our second score- which pretty much sealed the win for us," Turner said. "That play was huge." Eli Haney drove the PAT through the uprights and the Cougars led 16-6.

Bath County put together a nice drive, but, on third and long, the Wildcat QB dropped back to pass and Cougar defensive tackle JT Brown broke through the line for the sack. The Cougars held and were able to grind out the clock and hold on for the 16-6 win.

Statistically, the Cougars were led in rushing by Joe Holbrook, (57 yards on 13 carries and one TD). Walker Crase carried the ball 6 times for 28 yards. Larrin Collins had 13 yards on four carries. Jordan Whitt had 54 yards on 9 carries, with one TD. The Cougars were led in tackles, once again, by Walker Crase with 8 (one tackle for a loss). Jordan Whitt had 5. Eli Haney, Tyler Conley, Kody Thornsberry, and Austin Arnett each had 3. JT Brown had a sack, with an assist from Eli Haney.

The win allowed the Cougars to finish the regular season undefeated. It also made the Cougars the regular season conference champs and guaranteed the Cougars home field throughout the playoffs. In playoff action, the Cougar JV team (which also won their district championship) will host Mason County. The Cougar varsity team will host Nicholas County. Both games will be played Thursday at Herdman field, with a 6 o'clock kickoff for the JV game and the varsity game will follow immediately afterward.

2nd annual Sorghum Run a success

The first run in 2007 consisted of three teams with a total of 33 runners. This year's run consisted of eight teams and over 130 runners. The coaches and runners liked the new course and thought it was more like a cross country course. The official, Bob Stacy from Fairview, parished the course and suggested a few changes to make it even better. He also mentioned that the course was about a minute slower. The suggested changes have been made and school officials are in the process of preparing for the upcoming All Area to be hosted by MCHS on Oct. 25 when 300-400 runners from 22 schools will be participating.

Jones leads Fairview to 55-6 romp over Morgan

Cougars score lone TD on Curd to Nickell 40-yard pass play

By David Patrick

Fairview quarterback Matt Jones accounted for 247 yards of total offense and four touchdowns as the host Eagles beat Morgan County, 55-6 last Friday. Jones put his team's first points on the board with a 38 yard scoring run in the first quarter. That was followed with a two-yard touchdown run by T. J. Shelton as the Eagles claimed a 13-0 lead after one period.

Fairview then put the game completely out of reach with a 35-point second quarter. Jones began the scoring spree with a 24-yard touchdown run and then completed a two-point conversion pass to Jeff Evans for a 21-0 lead. After Drew Boyd scored on a two-yard run, Jones took it in from 36 yards out to make it a 35-0 game. The Eagles then closed the period with scoring runs by Shelton and Boyd for a commanding 48-point lead at the half.

"We played horribly in the first half—and for that matter—the entire game," said Cougar head coach Jake Purnell. "It's the first time I've ever seen our kids really down. I'm not saying that they ever quit, but at the half, they looked like they'd been whipped. It was a tough thing to see."

Also tough to see was Jones lighting up the scoreboard again in the third quarter.

The Eagle quarterback scampered 23 yards for his team's only touchdown of the second half.

The Cougars finally got on the board early in the fourth quarter when Jarred Curd connected

A marriage was about to be broken, because th husband wouldn't do anythingwith his wife.

The preacher said, "Do things with your wife. Go to church with her. Wash dishes with her. Mop the floor with her."

While there are exceptions, there must be companionship.

Marriage is a combination of courtship and companionship. The trouble with many marriages is that there is a lot of sex, but little companionship.

But that wasn't true of one lovely couple. On being asked the secret of their happy marriage, he said, "I married my best friend."

Plug, play and pray together. Then you'll stay together.

Fact or fiction, Swift Silver Mine Legend has lured searchers to this area of E. Ky. for over 200 years

Part Six Of A Series

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Despite debunkers, the tale of Jonathan Swift and his lost silver mines and Swift's adventures in the wilderness of what is now this area of Eastern Kentucky has intrigued Kentuckians of all walks of life since the days of Daniel Boone. For well over 200 years, many have searched for the mines and caches of silver bars and coins recorded in a Journal supposedly kept by Swift and entrusted to a woman who befriended him as he lay dying. But as far as is known, no one to date has been successful and the story of the mine and its treasure remains a mystery. The following account of Swift and his comrades, gleaned from various historical works, was written by Earl W. Kinner, Sr., late publisher of this newspaper, and is reprinted from a June 1963 edition of this paper.)

Hunts, Finds Mine In 1760

It was before the French and Indian War that the French lad Mundy revealed his secret to Swift, but they had to wait until after the war to locate the mine. The Journal tells of their search for the mine in 1760, thus—

"The first trip we came Mundy got lost. We put our horses on the river called 'Red.' We put them in a place surrounded by cliffs and fastened to the entrance with grape vines. We crossed the river to the other side and wandered around all day and came back from where we started from. The next day Mundy said he would go down the river to the Indian Trace (trail). He would know the way then. He went down the river two or three miles west and found the Indian trail. So we wandered all that day and next. Late in the evening Mundy hollowed out, 'Here is the Myrtle thicket. I know the way now.'

"We went down a flight of Indian stair steps at the top of the cliff and crossed to the other side. We climbed up and went 200 yards on the second ledge and found the opening in the mines.

"If you strike the creek below the furnace keep in the creek searching diligently for a big rock house on the left hand side about 100 yards above the rock house, the furnace is in, the creek makes a bend or turn to the south and there is the fallen rock in the creek near the bend. If you discover the furnace to go to the middle mine, go up over a southeast course until you come to a remarkable hanging rock very high up with a gap in between it and a very large mountain on the site, within 100 yards and you will find a line of rocks the mine is in. Search diligently for the said line rocks for the passage into the mine.

37.56 Degrees North

"The latitude of the mine is 37 and 56 degrees north.

"The last trip we came we saw our mine was so immensely rich it was decided by our party to abandon the mine for three years and for me to go to England to get a party interested to come over here and help work the mine on a large scale. Our mine was so much richer than any I had seen in England. There was smart talk of war. I talked so free in favor of a free country that I was arrested and put into prison.

"When the war broke out the put me in th navy. I fought through the Revolutionary War and it was 15 years before I came back to Virginia.

"When I returned I could not find any of the party; just supposing they got killed in the war. The last I heard of Mundy he started to Kentucky with a party of six men to get the middle treasure. The hard winter I had spent in Kentucky and the exposure I had lost my eye sight. I got six men to come to Kentucky to see if we could locate the mine. By the time we had started my eye sight had failed so I led them only as the blind. I could not see for others but these rocks and hills were just as plain before my eyes as the day I had left them."
